Attorney T. F. Blakeman, after visiting his ranch several weeks, returned to San Francisco last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rossi autoed to St. Helena Monday. Leo Baines, the well-known El Verano chauffeur, was at the wheel.

A large crowd of people from this place went to Sonoma to help fight the flames in the disastrous fire at that place Tuesday.

Frank Thomas, a well known barber of Fruitvale, accompanied by his son Frank Jr., visited friends in town Saturday and Sunday.

James M. Oliver, the attorney for the Yulupa Land & Water Co. in the suit with the O'Brien estate, was here the fore part of the week.

Lucien Pilastre, a well known and popular motorman for the United Railroads of San Francisco, is visiting friends and relatives in town this week.

George Potires, the chef of the Swiss-American Hotel, has left for San Francisco, but will return and cater to the guests of that resort next season. George was one of the gallant fire-fighters from this place at the big fire in Sonoma on Tuesday.

The cement walls around the Yulupa Land & Water Company's reservoir collapsed one night last week. The walls were several feet high and it is thought that the water washing around the bottom caused it to fall. It is a total loss. A. Minelli of Sonoma has received the contract to replace the walls and put down a concrete bottom.

Mr. W. H. Diehl of San Francisco has leased the O'Brien ranch for a number of years. Mr. Diehl was formerly of San Francisco and took possession of the place last week. Miss Nellie O'Brien having moved to the metropolis.

Last Sunday afternoon a horse belonging to the Spindler ranch above town ran away with the harness on. The animal was last seen speeding through El Verano headed towards Peteluma at a mile-a-minute clip. At this writing nothing has been heard or seen of the animal and it is feared that he is badly hurt or has been killed in his mad dash for liberty.

M. F. Mullen and son William of San Francisco took their annual walk to Hooker's Fall last Saturday and also visited the Nordwell ranch. Young Mullen looked over several ranches in that vicinity and it is his intention to soon give up the business of building battleships at the Union Iron Works and retire to the peaceful valley of Mt. Pisgah and start a large goat ranch.

Last Saturday evening the team and bus of the Swiss-American Hotel ran away. While J. Vincent stopped in front of Phil Rossi's road house to see if any passengers wanted to go to the train the animals became frightened and dashed towards the Northwestern depot at Verano. Young Vincent, the driver, gave chase and was badly hurt by one of the wheels of the vehicle running over his foot and crushing it. The bus also collided with a wagon driven by Matthew Johnson of Sonoma, throwing him from his seat, and shaking him up badly and wrecking the vehicle. The frightened animals then ran into an electric light pole, bringing it to the ground and putting El Verano in darkness for several hours. The frightened animals then came to a standstill at Verano, where the bus was overturned and badly damaged. The horses escaped injury.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN BUSINESS SECTION

Nearly a Whole Block of Two-Story Structures on the East Side of Sonoma's Historic Plaza is Obliterated.

THE PINELLI BUILDING

The great Chicago fire of decades ago was caused by Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicking over a coal-oil lamp in a shed in the rear of the madam's shack. The forty-thousand-dollar fire in Sonoma immediately after the noon hour on Tuesday was started in just as simple a manner and like the O'Leary blaze could have been successfully combated but circumstances unforeseen—if one may term them unforeseen—prevented.

The fire took place in the middle of the day when everybody was stirring. The fire apparatus and a hundred fire-fighters were upon the ground within five minutes after the fire started. It was but a small blaze when the first stream of water was played upon it, and there was scarcely a breath of air stirring at that stage of the fire to fan the flames and to prevent the firemen from fighting the fire demon at close quarters. But for all that there was no staying the flames although the fire-fighters fought the demon with dogged determination and bravery. That their efforts were fruitless was no fault of theirs. There was a lack of pressure to the streams of water played upon the flames, the fire engine did not work as of old, and inflammable shacks in the rear of the burning buildings added fuel to the flames. Then a brisk breeze sprang up, and the long row of business houses were doomed.

While Hans Frederickson, a cobbler and a bachelor, was engaged in preparing his noonday repast in his shop in the Poppe block on a coal-oil stove his frying pan blazed up, the coal-oil stove exploded and instantly the little shop was enveloped in flames. The poor fellow tried to stay the flames alone and unaided for a few minutes, the while calling lustily for help, which was not slow in coming to his aid, but not before he had been badly burned by the flames.

Within five minutes after the alarm had been given by the clanging of the fire bell Sonoma's fire-fighting apparatus, such as it is, was upon the ground and scores of firemen and volunteer fire-fighters took up the gauntlet in the struggle with the fire demon who would not be stayed, and the flames slowly but persistently ate their way from the cobbler's shop into the second-story of the Poppe flats occupied by Mrs. Kate Buchan and family and J. E. Poppe and family. But so slow did the fire burn that every bit of the furniture, including two large pianos, was carried out of the flats by the score of men, women, boys and girls who went at the task bravely and persistently without a thought of the danger that threatened them. While this scene of removal of personal property was being enacted in the interior of these flats, which were the first to be menaced, heroic efforts were being made by the firemen on top of the buildings and in front and rear to stay the flames. An inadequate water supply, faulty hose and couplings made the task a hopeless one, and in time the interior of the flats were a mass of flames, which soon spread to the Poppe concrete store on the south.

Up to this time the buildings in the block north of where the fire started were supposed safe, but a sudden change in the wind started a small blaze on the eaves of the Von Geldern building adjoining the Poppe block. At this stage of the fire it was apparent the Poppe block was doomed and had the entire energies of the fire-fighters been directed in staying the flames, which were slowly licking their way into the Von Geldern building two-thirds of the property destroyed could have been saved. This was not done and the small force of valiant men who had grasped the situation when they made their gallant stand on the roof of the building in question fought the flames alone until they had to drop to the ground to save their lives.

With the von Geldern building abandoned to the fire fiend, in an incredible short space of time the Bismarck Hotel, the Barbarin building and Pinelli's fine two-story structure were a seething mass of flames.

While these structures were burning the entire town east and north of the plaza was in jeopardy and only by a fortuitous change in the wind was this part of town saved.

While the fire was spreading from the von Geldern house to the buildings north of it, volunteers succeeded in removing most of the furniture and fixtures from the doomed buildings and carrying them to a place of safety on the Plaza.

However, when the wind suddenly changed from west to east it sent a wall of fire clear across the street into the Plaza, which set fire to the grass, and many of the personal effects belonging to Cantoni's bakery and the Bismarck Hotel were instantly ablaze and consumed.

While these scenes were being enacted the wind again veered and the roof of Pinelli's wine cellar on Spain street and many cords of stove wood piled up on the outside of the building were seen to be on fire, and as the fire apparatus could not be used everywhere at the same time, it looked as though nothing could stay the flames in that direction.

Mr. Pinelli, the owner of the property, however, never lost his head and leading and directing a force of fire-fighters to a thousand-gallon tank of wine in the cellar and connecting a large hose and force pump to the same a powerful stream of red wine was soon directed on the burning wine cellar and the blazing cord wood, and the building and its valuable contents were saved and the further progress of the flames stayed at that point.

At one time the roofs of the Old Mission San Francisco de Solano and Cucci's Toscano Hotel on the north side of the Plaza caught fire from flying embers but were speedily extinguished by the ever-watchful fire-fighters.

While the two-story Poppe store building at the lower end of the street was belching forth flames, not smoke, for the fire was practically a smokeless one from its very inception, a span of powerful horses was hooked on to a large one-story frame building between the Poppe property and the Sonoma House, and it was razed to the ground. This piece of work without a doubt stayed the progress of the fire at that end of the street and undoubtedly saved the Sonoma House, the Duhring-Ryland property and every house on Napa street from Duhring's corner to the Granice, LaTorres and Bates property on the one side of the street and the Boccoli, Dal Poggetto, Poulson, Castex, Gotenberg and Small buildings on the other. We do not know who suggested the razing of the building but we do know it was a fine piece of work and had the von Geldern building adjoining the Poppe property on the north been likewise demolished the Barbarin, Modini and Pinelli properties would have been saved, but no one suggested it and that is all there is to it.

Assistance poured in from all directions. Fire-fighters came from El Verano, Agua Caliente, Schellville, Vineburg and every farm within a radius of five miles of town. Many of these worked heroically and did more than their share in saving property in which they had no interest whatever. These were the real heroes of one of the most disastrous fires ever recorded in the history of Sonoma.

Praise is also due J. F. O'Brien & Co's force of men engaged in putting in the city's sewer system. These to the number thirty, under the direction of their foreman, quit work on the sewer and toiled like Trojans in their efforts to prevent a general conflagration from the first clang of the fire-bell until the fire was under control.

The principal losses were as follows:

Mrs. J. A. Poppe, loss between $12,000 and $15,000; insurance, $7,750.

A. Pinelli, $15,000; insurance, none.

Mrs. Barbarin, $6,000; insurance, $1,500.

Jas. L. Modini and Mrs. A. Berrett, owners of Bismarck Hotel, loss, $6,000; insurance, $1,000.

Otto von Geldern, loss $1,000; small insurance.

Other losses were suffered by R. Cantoni of the Old City Bakery; Poppe's second-hand store, Mrs. Kate Buchan, E. J. Poppe, Mrs. Frei, lessee of the Bismarck Hotel; Hans Frederickson, Al Miller and other tenants in the burned area.

Dr. A. J. F. Bateman reports a most interesting quarterly meeting of the California State Veterinary Medical Association, which he attended September 13th. The meeting was called to order at 10:30 a. m. in the Pathology building at the University of California, and the doctors in attendance repaired to the hog experimental station situated upon the canyon past the famous swimming hole, where Dr. Hayes of the Department of Veterinary Science and Bacteriology gave an extensive demonstrated lecture on hog cholera, especially the means of its eradication by means of the standardized serum which his department is manufacturing. The afternoon meeting was held in San Francisco where numerous papers were read and discussed, and a report was rendered by those who were fortunate enough to attend the last meeting of the A. V. M. A. held at Toronto. The prosecuting committee reported on arrests and judgments obtained against illegal practitioners. All veterinarians in the northern part of the State have been requested by the California Live Stock Association to charge a fixed fee for the examination of stallions under the new registration law.

Accident on the Jones Ranch.

An employee on the Jones ranch named Anderson had his left arm badly broken last Sunday in a runaway accident. The injury was attended by Dr. Thomson, who set the broken bones. Anderson appears to be a victim of accidents of this nature. Less than a month ago he had a rib broken by being thrown from a wagon on the same ranch, and had just recovered from the effects of the same when he was again crippled. This latter mishap will incapacitate him from work for several weeks.

Sonoma, California, September 23, 1911

Postmaster General Hitchcock and Proposed One-Cent Letter Postage.

ACTIVE steps looking towards the inauguration of one cent letter postage are to be taken this coming winter by the United States Postoffice department. It is expected that such a reform will be the next one attempted by Postmaster General Hitchcock, and that it will meet with general commendation at the hands of Congress.

Many significant reforms have been inaugurated in the postoffice department during the past year, resulting in the wiping out of a huge deficit and the creating of a surplus. One of far-reaching importance is the shipping of magazines by freight instead of in mail cars. Beginning July 1st the new system was inaugurated and it is proving quite successful. It makes it necessary that the magazines and trade journals should go to press a few a few days earlier than formerly so that an extra day or two may be given to their distribution. It is expected, however, that millions in money will be saved this year through this reform alone and that, during the closing months of this year and early months of 1912, a much larger surplus will pile up than has ever before been shown in the entire history of the department.

With such a surplus available with which to meet expenses, it is planned to cut the existing rate on first class mail matter in two, charging one cent an ounce instead of two cents. This means that every time a letter is mailed the cost will be cut exactly in half. To business men and others having postage accounts of considerable volume this will mean much.

An active agitation for this reform is being carried on by the National One Cent Letter Postage Association. The organization is composed of prominent business men located in every state in the Union. It has its location in Cleveland because the two leading officers of the organization reside there. Mr. Charles Wm. Burrows, a prominent publisher, is President of the Association and Mr. George T. McIntosh, formerly head of the McIntosh Hardware Corporation, but now retired from business, is Secretary and Treasurer as well as active manager of the campaign. The work of the association is warmly approved by President Taft and Postmaster Hitchcock, and in addition has been indorsed by every bank in Cleveland and by leading boards of trade, chambers of commerce and commercial organizations throughout the country.

It is claimed that a one cent rate can be inaugurated without difficulty by simply readjusting rates now in operation in the postoffice department and letting each class pay nearer the costs of its service. Full data concerning the situation is being sent out by the National One Cent Letter Postage Association from its headquarters, 506 Chamber of Commerce building, Cleveland, O. The association is prepared to wage an active campaign at the winter session of Congress for the passage of the necessary legislation to bring about the required reform.

Postmaster General Hitchcock, who has wiped out a $17,000,000 deficit and created a large surplus solely by business like methods in the administration of his department looks forward to the establishment of a one cent rate for letters as the next important change in the department. This sentiment he gave expression to in New York recently when furnishing testimony before postal commission which is investigating the question of adjusting carrying charges for second class mail.

Equal to expenditures. Such adjustment of postal charges as will provide for each class of mail matter a rate equal to the cost of handling and carriage should be made.

"At no time should the support of the postal establishment be left to the changes and uncertainties of general taxation. The present self supporting condition of the service is made possible only because other classes of mail, particularly the first class, are taxed excessively to make up for the loss caused by the inadequate charge on other matter."

"In the conduct of our postal system certain fundamental principles of administration should be closely followed," Mr. Hitchcock said, "The operation of the service should be on a self-supporting basis maintained by the imposition of such charges as will yield an income Going into statistics, Mr. Hitchcock said that in 1910 8,310,164,623 pieces of first class mail matter were carried in the mails. The cost of handling and carriage, he said, was $86,792,511.35. The postal charge was $154,796,568.08, leaving a clear profit to the government of $68,004,156.73. In the year before 4,336,259,864 pieces of second class mail matter was carried. The cost of handling and carriage was $80,791,615.03, while the postage return was only $10,607,271.02.

The Woman Question.

THERE are two sides to the woman question. In the talk about "woman's rights," people overlook the underlying principle of real womanhood. To be genuinely "womanly" a woman must never lose either her own self-respect, nor the honor and respect due her from men with whom she comes in contact. How can she best maintain this position? By sitting in the house, cooking, washing and sewing, by ruining her eyesight and nerves over yards of fine embroidery, while her sister reads aloud from one of the hundred latest novels, and then joining the neighborhood bridge club? Or should she attend to her home and her children's welfare according to the newest scientific and sanitary methods, reading the new magazines in order to discuss with her husband at dinner the various questions that are to be put before "the people" at the next election and then going on that eventful day to drop her paper into the box in the presence of three or four men neighbors, much in the same fashion as she posts her letter or buys a ticket at the railroad station. Which woman deserves the most respect?

The people. Who are the people? Are women half of the people, or mere animals?

The first paragraph of the Constitution of the United States begins (and how many of us men can tell how it does begin?) thus: "We the people of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, * * * and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution."

Who are "the people?" Surely half of them are women, who are educated as well as men, who pay taxes just as men do, and who bear "our posterity" and perform a large share of the burden of rearing them. The so-called burden of voting is no greater than that of mailing a letter—not to be compared to the burden of cooking a man's dinner!

To maintain respect, must women be weak minded rather than healthy and alert?

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and secretly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. Will Build Temporary Structure

The first move to build up the burned district on First-street East was made this morning by A.
Pinelli, one of the heaviest losers in Tuesday's fire. He is having a temporary building erected in which to conduct his business until a permanent structure is built on the ruins of his once valuable property. The work is being done

VINEBURG NEWS ITEMS

"Easy Jim" Tells in an Interesting Way all About the Week's Happenings in and About His Section of the Valley.

Miss Mary Batto, after a week's visit with her parents, returned to the Bay City Tuesday last.

Mr. Nelson, who was seriously injured a short time ago, we are glad to state is improving rapidly.

Pleasant weather brought many visitors to this burg last Sunday and for a time all enjoyed themselves.

Fred Batto, Enrico Forni and Edward Mitchell of Vineburg transacted business in Petaluma on last Wednesday.

We hear the Mayor of Vineburg will shortly resign as he has been offered a position as civil engineer on the Panama Canal.

A party was tendered in honor of Mr. Otto Rehlay at Rhinefarm Tuesday evening. A pleasant time was had by all present.

Mrs. Erskine had as a guest her mother-in-law, Mrs. Erskine of San Francisco, at her country home on the Hyde tract this week.

Wm. Rubke, a well-known railroad man of Sausalito and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Henry Rubke at their Schellville home last Monday.

Beverly Muhs, a young business man of San Francisco, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gregerich at their home on the Hyde tract a few days this week.

Building has been resumed on the Schellville chicken colony as the company has received large consignments of delayed lumber and improvements continue.

Miss Mary Bosch was a passenger on last Saturday's train to San Francisco, where she will be the guest of friends and relatives.
A pleasant trip and safe return,
May.

Mrs. Ed. Johansen returned from San Francisco on Saturday last and we learn she is getting along nicely after undergoing treatment in one of the hospitals of that city.

Vineburg was almost deserted on Tuesday afternoon as most of the male population rushed to the fire in Sonoma. At Batto's spur the men, led by Fred and Arthur Batto, jumped into an auto and went to the rescue, and business was suspended for the rest of the day. In fact this whole part of the valley turned out as far as the Jones ranch. Supt. Jos. Keechler sent men to help the Bear Flag city and all worked like heroes.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES.

M. Viera of Oakland was in town last Sunday.

Mrs. Burn of San Francisco is the guest of Mrs. M. Beyers this week.

Mrs. Fussell and daughter, Miss Laura, formerly of this place but now of Napa, were visitors here yesterday.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Home and School Association will be held on Saturday at 2:30 p. m., September 30th, in the High School building. All friends of the Sonoma schools are invited to be present.

On next Wednesday evening in Union Hall, under the auspices of the Men's League, a meeting will be held to discuss the amendments to be voted on at the coming election next month. Senators Juilliard and Hamilton and Assemblyman Slater will address the meeting. Everybody is invited to be present.

Dear Easy:

I was surprised the other day when on the road from Sonoma to Vineburg I saw two fine trotting horses and when I inquired about them I found out they were Mike C. and Rooney Dillon coming down to be shod by the "star" shoer Jack Murray. Oh! yes, Sonoma's classy driver, Joe Ryan, can handle the ribbons and land them under the wire alright, but it takes the Vineburg horse shoer, our Jack, to shoe 'em.

Looking over our invitation list for the first leap year ball to be given by the "Lonesome Club" in 1912, we notice several names of Sonoma city's young society men.
Oh! girls, what a chance.

We understand that a young lady well-known and highly respected in this vicinity will shortly build a number of conservatories or hot houses for the purpose of raising nutmegs and watermelons.
How nice. Watermelons in the win-

Southern Pacific Co. Announces Special Excursion Rates.

When President William Howard Taft turns the first spade of earth in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, for the Panama Pacific International Exposition, a record crowd is certain to be in attendance. The Southern Pacific Co.
has just announced special excursion rates to San Francisco, and Oakland for this occasion and already the inquiry for accommodations on the trains on the selling dates has been enormous. A rate for the round trip of a fare and a third will be in effect October 11, 12, 13 and 14, the return trip to be made by midnight of October 16.
The special rates will cover the territory between Redding, Baker-field and San Luis Obispo. Similar rates to Sacramento, where President Taft will stop for two hours, will also be in effect October 12 and 13, returning the fourteenth.

Tenth Anniversary of the Wo- man's Club.

The members of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club celebrated the tenth anniversary of the founding of the club in Union Hall last Thursday evening. Mrs. G. H.
Hotz, the president of the club,
on behalf of its members had extended an invitation to all friends of the club to be present, and there was a large gathering of the leading people of both town and valley. The reception was in the form of a musical program, dancing and card-playing. Dainty refreshments were also served.

It was a swell affair and many of the ladies gowns were both elegant and expensive.
The club ladies received their guests in that gracious manner so well known to those who have accepted their hospitality in the past.

TAX LEVY FOR SONOMA COUNTY.

Supervisors Fix the Rate at $1.70 Outside Cities and $1.20 Inside Municipalities.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors held on Monday for the express purpose of fixing the tax levy for the fiscal year 1911-12 a rate was adopted practically the same as last year as follows.

Inside Cities	$1.20
General	0.45
School	0.29
Salary	0.17
Indigent	0.13
Panama Pacific Exhibit	0.05
State	0.05
Bond	0.05
Advertising	0.01
Road (1, 3 and 4 Sup. Dist.)	0.50
Road (2 and 5 Sup. Dist.)	0.60

The levy last year was $1.70 outside cities and $1.20 inside and it is practically the same this year, if we except Supervisors' districts
Nos. 2 and 5 where it will be $1.80, ten cents being added to the levy in those districts for road purposes owing to the loss of the railroad and other corporation taxes inflicted on them by the reform legislature of last winter.

In making the levy the Supervisors included a five-cent tax for the Panama-Pacific Exposition Sonoma county exhibit fund. It will be remembered that some time ago a large and representative gathering of taxpayers and residents were given a hearing on this matter by the Supervisors, and they were urged to make the levy for the purpose named. The one cent for "advertising" is for the contract the county has with the Sunset Magazine for the advertising of the resources of Sonoma county.
This year in accordance with the new law a separate fund had to be established.

The special taxes in the Sonoma
Valley Union High School districts
are as follows:

Dunbar, Enterprise, Flowery,
San Luis, Sonoma, Watmaugh,
each 22 cents high school special;
El Verano grammar bond .14, high school special .22, total .36; Glen Ellen, grammar bond .13, high school special .22, grammar special
.29, total .64; Huichica, grammar bond .09, high special .22, grammar special .16, total .47.

The Hay Market

Somers & Co. of San Francisco report the condition of the hay market this week as follows:

"It is rather surprising that the hay continues to arrive so freely on the local market, for the fields in almost every district are well cleaned up. During the past week 4780 tons in all arrived, although a large portion of this quantity came in by boat and consisted of alfalfa and the poorer types of low land
hay. The rail arrivals likewise consisted generally of medium and inferior grades of hay. The better types of hay are in excellent demand here and for a choice article of either wheat or tame oat, better prices are now obtained, in fact all hay is finding a ready market here as well as in nearly all parts of the state with the possible exception of alfalfa, which is not at present in particularly good demand.

"It is the general opinion of all familiar with the hay situation that almost any time now we will see an advance, especially in the better grades of hay, which probably will be followed by better prices for the medium and poorer grades.

"Although shipping and export business is quiet, yet the local and interior demand has been very active during the summer and probably will continue sufficiently heavy to maintain an advance range of prices during the balance of the season."

LOW CASTE MANGS.

Hindus Not Only Despise Them, They Fear and Hate Them.

By his fellow Hindu the Mang, one of the lowest of all Indian castes, is not only despised, but even feared and hated. A writer in the Times of India says: "To be cruel is to be 'Mang hearted'; to fly into a passion may be expressed in Marathi idiom as having a Mang within one. When on the occasion of an eclipse fears are awakened for the safety of the sun or moon, it is the Mang whose help is sought. He goes among the people claiming their propitiatory gifts, saying: 'Give your gifts that the grasp may be removed. For are not Rahu and Ketu, the enemies who have laid evil hands on the heavenly bodies, themselves Mangs?' Similarly, to their recognized relation with 'dark' worship and with subterranean and demonic influences is to be traced the making of offerings to Mang women on Dasera day and the sinister fact that there are few great buildings erected in pre-British days in this part of India that have not—whether they be temples or forts or palaces—Mang victims built into their foundations.

"The peculiar place that these popular superstitions have given to the Mang community is seen especially in the ceremonies that are sometimes performed for the removal of disease. Frequently when some one has fallen ill a Joshi is consulted and explains the illness as due to the influence of some evil spirit. The one effective prescription in such a case is to call a Mang and give him a dinner. This is not by any means an act of friendliness toward a despised community, but has as its object apparently the propitiation of the demonic power and the removal of the source of the disease from the sick man to its proper habitation.

"With this end in view practices of sympathetic magic, which can be paralleled in the folk lore of many peoples, are employed. Portions of the finger nails or, it may be, fragments of hair of the invalid are secretly mixed with the food to be given to the Mang, and before the sugar water of which he is to partake is given to him the sick man must see his face in it. In this way the evil is supposed to be passed back to where it properly belongs and the disease removed.

STAGE REALISM.

Why Jefferson Didn't Have a Dog Schneider in the Flash.

It was the privilege of the writer years ago to attend a reception at which Joseph Jefferson spoke on the drama. His treatment of the subject was interesting, the utterance of a man who knew the art of which he spoke. But the most interesting part of the hour came after the completion of the formal address, when an opportunity was given to the audience to ask any questions they wished of Mr. Jefferson. Soon the familiar topic was introduced, the effect of the modern elaboration and realism in stage setting. Mr. Jefferson at once rose to the question. He spoke somewhat rapidly, with a quaint humor and sympathetic charm that were irresistible. He characterized the modern fashion of stage setting as "a tribute to the weakness of the human imagination." "I am often asked," he went on, "why I do not have a real dog Schneider. But if I did none of you would be satisfied. You would go home saying, 'Well, Schneider never looked like that dog!' You love Schneider because you have made him out of a piece of your own heart. And then," meditatively, "if I had a real Schneider some one in the gallery would probably whistle to him at the critical moment, and he would bark and spoil the play, while if he knew his part perfectly and did just what Schneider ought to do," pausing and with his delightful smile, "Schneider would be the hero and not Rip!" Then, with a twinkle of the eye, he summed up the whole matter with the quiet remark, "Realism with a tail to wag in the wrong place is a dangerous thing."

—New York Post.

Debbling de Crabs.
In the service of a Baltimore family is an old negro cook known as Aunt Sally, and not the least of her achievements is the preparation of sea food. In the kitchen one day Aunt Sally's nephew, a nine-year-old lad from a point where crabs are seldom seen, was watching in breathless interest the old lady's devilling of a dish of such crustaceans.

"Aunt," asked he after much reflection upon this mysterious point, "does debbill crabs come from de debbill?"

"No, chile," promptly responded Aunt Sally, "but dey is de debbill to make."

—St. Louis Republic.

The President's Oath.
The oath of office taken by the incoming president of the United States is the shortest and the simplest required of any ruler on earth. It is prescribed by the constitution and is as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and, to the best of my ability, protect, preserve and defend the constitution of the United States."
